Peggy Sue Brackeen O'Gorman

Peggy Sue Brackeen O'Gorman, 53, of Fort Worth, formerly of Newark, died Friday, Aug. 14, 2015.

Mass of Christian burial was Aug. 21 at St. Paul the Apostle Catholic Church in River Oaks. Burial followed at Mount Olivet Cemetery in Fort Worth.

Peggy was born April 1, 1962, in Fort Worth to George Donald and Jeneva Bramlett Brackeen. She spent most of her life in her hometown of Fort Worth and was known for her positive attitude and faith in the Lord.

Peggy was always ready to minister to anyone in need of a word of encouragement and truth. Even though she faced many trials in life, Peggy never lost her faith in God.

She used her trials as an opportunity to be a blessing to others. Peggy dedicated every day of her life to lifting others up and helping them to forget about the issues in life, even if it was just for a minute.

She always had a contagious smile on her face, and Peggy was an example of God's love, which she showed to everyone, every day.

Peggy is survived by her father George Donald Brackeen and mother Jeneva Bramlett Brackeen of Newark; husband of 33 years, Charles A. O'Gorman; sons Damion T. O'Gorman, Earl A. O'Gorman and wife, Whitney, and William A. O'Gorman; grandchildren Leo, Candy, Anthony, Alex, Andrew and Gage; and great-grandchildren Faby and Mason.

She is also survived by brothers David Brackeen, James Brackeen and wife, Susan, Allen Brackeen and wife, Cathy, Larry Brackeen and wife, Arlene, George Brackeen, Johnny Brackeen and wife, Katy, and Darrell Brackeen and wife, Laura; sisters Marsha Brackeen Tucker and husband, Glenn, Donna Brackeen Sharp and husband, Gary, Carroll Brackeen West and husband, Jesse; and many nieces, nephews, cousins, adopted children and friends.
